 We are overwhelmed by the show of love and support shared during this time. The numerous calls, prayers, and other loving expressions have touched our hearts beyond words. Special thanks to the principal and staff at E. E. Taylor Elementary and the East Lake Community Church family, all of whom loved and supported Tracy since she received her diagnosis; and to New Bethel AME Church, Bible Way and Zion Mill Creek Baptist church who remained her family as well. Finally, our sincere appreciation to the medical staff at both the Lexington Medical Center and SC Oncology Associates.

MY FOREVER TRACY Love

On March 15, 1973, Tracy Gregg Brown was born to Helen (Rawls) and Luther "Gene" Gregg in (Flushing) Queens, NY. Tracy and her twin sister Stacy were her parents' second and third children, having been preceded in birth by a sister, Pamela Jean. Over the next few years, they welcomed two more children, LaKisha and Kareem Gregg, to their family.

On November 8, 2021, Tracy transitioned from this life into the arms of our Heavenly Father. She was preceded in death by her mother, father and sister, Pamela Jean.

Tracy attended Lexington School District One schools and graduated from Lexington High School in 1991. Following that, she attended Winthrop University and earned an associate degree from Midlands Technical College. Tracy worked for Karen Park Dentistry for many years. As a dedicated assistant, she learned to communicate with her patients in Spanish and American Sign Language. Following her time as a dental assistant, Tracy became an Administrative Assistant at Richland One's E. E. Taylor Elementary School, where she enjoyed a beautiful relationship with the school's principal, Debbie Hunter, and many of her colleagues, including Cicely Maxwell, Janette Bell-Taste, and Marquita Thomas.

In December 2012, Tracy married her best friend, Derrick L. Brown in a spirit filled ceremony at Zion Mill Creek Baptist Church. Through her union, Tracy was blessed with a new mother, Jackie Brown, and a brother, Ryan. Derrick shared her passion for God, music, and life. Together they built a beautiful life, and enjoyed many great experiences. Tracy was an accomplished singer; having recorded on multiple projects locally and nationally. She loved crafting and owned a small firm, Brownbeauty Creations.

Tracy had a heart for ministry and shared the love of Christ with everyone she met. She served in music ministry at multiple churches, including East Lake Community Church, Zion Mill Creek Baptist Church, and New Bethel AME Church. At each of these churches, Tracy experienced true family relationships with congregation members and became close friends with East Lake's pastors Ray Washington & Philip Oswald and Zion Mill Creek's pastor Wendell Sumter.

Tracy was an inspiration to many who knew her personally and countless others who didn't. Mourning her loss are her siblings Stacy, LaKisha (James), and Kareem (Tanja); nieces and nephews, Zhara Gregg, Shadiyah Jones, Xavior Bridgeford, Shante Gregg, and Tiana Bridgeford; aunts Barbara Rawls, Gloria Rawls, Carol Cooper, and Carrie Daniels; uncles Wayne Rawls and Frankie Gregg; step-mother Carolyn Clemmons, her sister Cheryl (Vincent) and their children Tracey, McKenzie, Vincent, and Emiya; a bonus mother, Dorothy Counts, and bonus sisters Mary Young, Michele Gilmore, Natasha Ross, and JoVonda Pringle; as well as her many cousins and their children, who consider her their Aunt. In addition to her family and extended family, Tracy leaves special classmates Tisha Anderson, Bethany Garrison, Monica Gates, Eric Gore, Tammy Hill, Cassandra Johnson, Dawn Muhammad, Lisa Strother, and Willie Wise.
