

When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

When tomorrow starts without me,
and I'm not here to see,
If the sun should rise and find your eyes, filled with tears for me.

I wish so much you wouldn't cry
the way you did today, while thinking of the many things we didn't get to say.

I know how much you love me, as much as I love you,
and each time you think of me,
I know you'll miss me too.

When tomorrow starts without me,
please try to understand That an angel came and called my name and took me by the hand

The angel said my place was ready in heaven far above And that I'd have to leave behind all those I dearly love.

But when I walked through Heaven's gate,
I felt so much at home
When God looked down and smiled at me from His great golden throne.

He said, "This is eternity and all I've promised you." Today my life on earth is past, but here it starts anew

I promise no tomorrow but today will always last And since each day's the same day, there's no longing for the past.

So when tomorrow starts without me, don't think we're far apart,
For every time, you think of me,
I'm right there in your heart.

Life Reflections of Mrs. Colene Monk Jones

Mrs. Colene Monk Jones was born on October 26, 1923, to Berther and Ardelia Grantham Monk, on the family farm in Mount Olive, North Carolina. She was one of twelve children born to this union. Colene departed this life on Wednesday, May 18, 2022, at Agape Hospice House, in Lexington, South Carolina.

Colene was educated in the public schools of North Carolina, and accepted Christ at an early age. She was baptized in the lake behind her family church, St. Luke Church of Christ.

On May 1, 1944, she married Lee Jones, and with this union became the parents of four children, Doris, Harold Lee, Angelina, and Kenneth Ray. The family relocated to Philadelphia, and subsequently settled in White Plains, New York. Colene was an active member of Union Baptist Church, until she relocated to Irmo, South Carolina, to live out her later years with her two daughters.

Colene was a woman of faith, which she exemplified in her daily life. She enjoyed spending time with her family, traveling, sharing her life experiences, laughing, and watching her soap operas.

Colene was preceded in death by: her husband, Lee Jones; sons, Harold Lee Jones and Kenneth Ray Jones; and a granddaughter, Devonnia Monique Jones.

Mrs. Colene Monk Jones leaves to cherish and honor her memory: her daughters, Doris J. (Curley) Brown and Angelina Jones (David) Veasley, both of Irmo, South Carolina; her sister, Darlene Monk, of Burkeville, Virginia; and a host of grandchildren; great-grandchildren; great-great-grandchildren; nieces; nephews; other loving relatives, and caring friends, all of whom will miss her dearly.
