

When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

*When tomorrow starts without me, and I'm not here to see,
If the sun should rise and find your eyes, filled with tears for me.*

I wish so much you wouldn't cry the way you did today, while thinking of the many things we didn't get to say.

I know how much you love me, as much as I love you, and each time you think of me, I know you'll miss me too.

*When tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand
That an angel came and called my name and took me by the hand*

*The angel said my place was ready in heaven far above
And that I'd have to leave behind all those I dearly love.*

*But when I walked through Heaven's gate, I felt so much at home
When God looked down and smiled at me from His great golden throne.*

*He said, "This is eternity and all I've promised you."
Today my life on earth is past, but here it starts anew*

*I promise no tomorrow but today will always last
And since each day's the same day, there's no longing for the past.*

*So when tomorrow starts without me, don't think we're far apart,
For every time, you think of me, I'm right there in your heart.*

Obituary of Mr. Dean Webb (Cannon)

Mr. Dean Webb (Cannon), 34 was born in Easley, South Carolina, on December 27, 1987. He was the beloved husband of Krysten Webb, and son of Glenn and Marcy Cannon. On June 12, 2022, our heavenly father called him home to stand amongst all the warriors before him.

Dean attended Lexington High School, graduating in 2006. He was very hardworking with many different trades and skills: from industrial, to construction, and to leadership. He always stayed busy. In 2007, Dean met his wife and soul mate, and they were married on March 14, 2014. His heart was pure. He was the kind of man that you wanted in your corner. His loyalty and compassion towards everyone he met had no bounds. During his courageous fight with a rare autoimmune kidney disease, his heart never wavered. He continued to fight, being a true warrior. His hobbies included: woodworking and making tumblers. Dean was gifted at anything he put his mind to. A jack of all trades, there was nothing he could not do. He was known to put his all into everything he did. Whether it was his relationships with family, friends, work, or fighting for good health, he took pride in being an honorable family man, husband, son, brother, and friend. No matter how great or small, if you needed anything, he would do everything in his power to help despite any health obstacles. Nothing would stand in his way. Through all the ups and downs of his kidney disease, he never complained. Only positivity, and faith in God which guided him. Dean was a firm believer in living life to the fullest and cherishing every moment. Out of all his accomplishments, his best was being a husband to his wife. His love for her was truly unmatched. He never met a stranger. Everyone in his path could not help but fall in love with him, for his witty, charming, and outgoing personality. He had a heart as big as the ocean and a smile that lit up the darkest of days. He had the most giving and genuine soul. Dean marched to the beat of his own drum, fearlessly, and passionately. Truly one of a kind, wise, and intelligent beyond his years, an old soul. He loved music of all genres. Impressively a sports enthusiast, as a true Tiger fan, he could remember every stat from every Clemson game. Dean was a very proud dad of two lovable pups, Princeton and Chance. Spending time with family was his greatest pleasure.

He was preceded in death by his great-grandmother, Samantha Paige and grandmother, Louise Cannon and grandfather, Thomas S. Latimer.

Those left to celebrate his homegoing are: His loving wife: Krysten Webb, his parents, Glenn (Marcy) Cannon; mothers-in-law and fathers-in-law, Phil (Janice) Luther and Candi (George) Fox; grandparents, Julia (Nathan) Latimer-Knight, Jesse (Gladys) Paige, Janie Miles, and Thomas Luther; his best friend and brother, Drake (Kym) Webb Cannon; uncles, Thomas (Cherell) Latimer II and Cleveland Latimer; his beloved aunt, Elaine Paige; brother-in-law Glenn (Courtney) Luther; nephew, Jaxon Luther, and niece, Kaliyah Cannon-Webb; godson, Adler F. Coleman; special friends, Jamaa (Leanne) Coleman and Michelle Sanchez, a host of other loving cousins, relatives, and close friends.
