

Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?*

*Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.*

*For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's Plan,
A step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss Me - But Let Me Go.*

Obituary

Mr. Robert Louis Spigner, “Tucker,” as he was affectionately called, was the second son born to the late Johnny Spigner and Lessie Dinkins on June 25, 1938. During childhood, Tucker lived in the Sandhills section of Eastover, on family land called Berry Bottom. He departed this life on Thursday, December 29, 2022.

Tucker was initially home schooled by his maternal grandfather, Robert Miller, Sr. He later attended segregated public schools in Eastover and Columbia, SC. As an adult, Robert worked as a cement finisher, trained by his stepfather, Melvin Dinkins, Sr.

He also liked to sketch and draw. He was the best dancer amongst his siblings. In the 1960s, he played the guitar and was one of the lead vocalists on a band with his brother, Sunny (Wilbert), and a few Sharpe Road neighbors. Tucker liked to tell funny stories and had a very gusty laugh, which earned him the nickname Tucker. He was also called Brother or Bro by close family members and Chicken or Chick by his close friends. He was a member of Mount Pilgrim Baptist Church, in Eastover during his younger years, and later attended Gunter’s Chapel Baptist Church.

Tucker is survived by his wife, Frances Chitty Tucker; stepdaughter, Robin Graham-Adams, of Atlanta, Georgia; two sisters, Florie S. Cooke and Deloris Rogers; one brother, Wilbert Dinkins, all of Columbia, South Carolina. He spent his last weeks being taken care of at the home of his niece and nephew-in-law, Christie and James Jeffcoat, of Columbia, South Carolina; he is also survived by a host of other loving nieces, nephews, cousins, and other relatives.
