

Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?*

*Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.*

*For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's Plan,
A step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss Me - But Let Me Go.*

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly on a chair.
Perhaps you sent a funeral spray, ff so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, that anyone could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts, we, thank you so much whatever the part.

Obituary
of
Ms. Shadyia DaQuana Moulton

Ms. Shadyia DaQuana Moulton was born on March 6, 1996, in Brooklyn, New York. She was the oldest child of her mother, Tamara Kitt, and the first-born girl of her father, Alexander Young. She departed this life on Monday, January 30, 2023.

Ms. Moulton was educated in the public school systems of Brooklyn, New York, and Columbia, South Carolina. She was a graduate of Westwood High School, class of 2014. After graduating high school, she attended Forts College, earning a degree in Nursing.

Ms. Moulton was a true light, and never let her circumstances outweigh her shine. She was a great mother, daughter, sister, and an exceptional friend, who always saw the good in everyone.

Ms. Shadyia DaQuana Moulton leaves to mourn her passing: her daughter, Amyia Evans, of Columbia, South Carolina; her mother and stepfather, Tamara Kitt, Terrell Kitt, both of Columbia, South Carolina; two brothers, Tavone Leach and Jaquel Moulton, both of Columbia, South Carolina; sister, Dymond Vaughn, of Brooklyn, New York; uncle, Kipling Johnson, of Lexington, South Carolina; a host of other siblings, other loving relatives, and caring friends, all of whom will miss her very much.
