Cyrus

*Cyrus was a bright light
A young man of Intelligence, Joy, and Kindness
Brutally honest, His smile would light up a room
He was the epitome of happiness
He loved hard*

*Kingston was his best friend
He was forever learning from his big brother Czar Cortez*

*His laugh was infectious
He was a jokester
He would find ways to make you smile
His love of nature
Where he would take walks to explore
He enjoyed the beauty of God
The bluest skies
Beautiful sunsets*

*His love of animals big and small
He was always grateful for the life he had
The love of his mother
Their bond unbreakable
"Mom you are so weird" he would always say
But I could never love another more*

*Mom all I ask is Celebrate the joys
The beautiful memories
The happy tears
My first love always*

Reflections of the Life of Mr. Cyrus Monroe Carmack-Belton

Mr. Cyrus Monroe Carmack-Belton was born February 6, 2009 in Columbia, South Carolina. He was the youngest child of Troy Belton and Nicole Carmack. He gained his wings on Sunday, May 28, 2023.

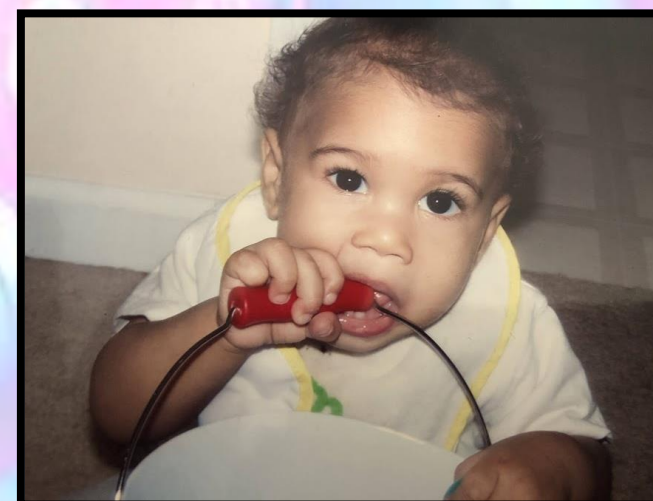

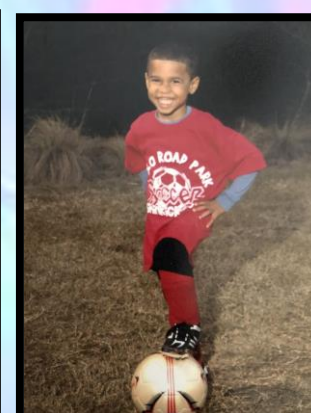

Cyrus was an eighth-grade student at Summit Parkway Middle School. His favorite subject was Science. Cyrus loved playing video games, putting game systems together, creating art for tattoos, and taking long nature walks. One of his favorite food was ice cream, especially the flavors Cotton Candy and Birthday Cake.

Cyrus was very fond of family, especially his older brothers, Kingston, Czar-Cortéz, and Little Troy. He was known as the prankster of the group. He loved spending time with them, they were his best friends. The four of them were inseparable and did everything together. Cyrus aspired to be a tattoo artist, because of his love for art. He was known by his Nana as "Pepito" and "Eskimo Pie". His witty sense of humor, big personality, and playfulness will forever be missed.

Cyrus was preceded in death by his grandfather, Mondell "Papa" Belton.

Mr. Cyrus Monroe Carmack-Belton leaves to cherish his memory: his father, Troy Belton; his mother, Nicole Carmack; his brothers, Marquis Belton, Troy Dajon Belton, Czar-Cortez Marcole Carmack-Williams-Dixon, Walter Belton, and Kingston Cyril Carmack-Belton; paternal grandmother, Doris N.
