Tribute

Words cannot explain how much you mean to us. nothing could ever compare or even ever be. You are our Momma and our own and our only learning post although we love our family you are the one we lost the most even though you may be leaving you will still be in our hearts You will always be really close even though we far apart while you're in heaven please watch over us and help us as we grow. You've taught us so much but there is still so much to know. we're not going to say goodbye or that we could go on. We'll say we love you and see you later even though you're gone. We love you momma more than you'll ever know. We know you'll be in heaven as a shining star no matter how far away you seem, heaven is never too far.
