My Last Request

*Please don't say that I have up, just say that I gave in,
Not to the pain or hurt, but to my God and friend.*

*Don't say I lost the battle, for the battle belongs to God.
For it was God's war to lose or win, I just did my part.*

*Please don't say how good I was, but that I did my best.
Just say I tried to do what's right. To give the most, not less.*

*Please don't give me wings or halos, that's for God to do.
I want no more than I deserve, no extras, just my due.*

*Please don't give me flowers or talk in real hushed tones,
Don't be concerned about me now. If I am well with God, only he knows.*

*Don't talk about what could have been, it's over and done.
I've lived my life and I've had plenty of fun.*

*I have done some good, I've done some wrong.
No worse than any other, but to God I still belong.*

*If you must do something, I have one request,
Thank God my soul's at rest,
And with the love that is left,
Give all praise to God, the one who loved me best.*

A Grandmother's Love

As the days grow longer and nights grow shorter with every noise heard with every quiet sound not heard, from the soft tones of your voice to the sweet smell of your perfume we will always be comforted by your love; a grandmother's love is like none other, it quiets the storms wipes away the tears and fears, and holds us each ever so dear. With every lesson learned and not learned, with every smile and every laugh laughed we know what a grandmother's love is. We know what your love is.

Until we meet again Grandma,

Always Loving you,

Your Grandchildren, Great-Grandchildren, and Great-Great-Grandchildren
