Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's Plan,
A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss Me - But Let Me Go.

Obituary

of Mrs. Dolores Jean Williams Wall

Mrs. Dolores Jean Williams Wall was born in September 4, 1953 to parents LC Williams and McOla Boozer in Columbia, SC. She was educated in the Richland County schools of the Waverly district. She attended Carver Elementary, WA Perry Middle School and graduated from CA Johnson High School in 1972. Dolores was an avid reader and loved to sing. She sang on the CA Johnson girls' choir, the Johnsonaires. She was in the drama club and was also the sports announcer for the CA Johnson football team.

After graduating high school, she wanted to fulfill her passion of doing hair, so she went on to pursue a career in cosmetology. For years she practiced her craft in her kitchen, ultimately turning out beautiful stunning heads of curls for all she serviced. She later switched her interests to Allied Health, where she worked at Dorn VA hospital for many years as a phlebotomist.

In 1975, Dolores met a wonderful soldier named James "Kenny" who loved her and was willing to love and accept her young son Antwan as his own. Dolores and Kenny went on to have three more children, James III, Whitney, and Kortney, all of Columbia.

Dolores was God-fearing and knew God as her Lord and Savior. She was baptized at an early age at Trinity Baptist Church of Columbia. She loved His word, she loved life and she loved her family. She was the life of the party. She was kind and fair and has never met a stranger. She was a best friend to all her children and always put her grandchildren first. Her favorite morning salutation that she adopted from her granddaughter Bella was "GOD HAS KEPT US WELL!"

Dolores was preceded in death by her husband, James K Wall, Jr.; her parents; brother, Sonnie Williams; aunt, Georgia Richardson; mother-in-law, Fannie B. Wall; brother-in-law, Edgar Tyrone Wall; and furbaby, Chi-Chi Wall

Mrs. Dolores Jean Williams Wall is survived by her children, sons Antwan Williams of Virginia and James (Kim) Wall III of Columbia; daughters, Whitney (Joe) Boyd of Columbia and Kortney Wall of Columbia; god daughter, Tiffany (Greg) Robertson Gundy of Columbia; grandchildren, Nyseem Hopkins of Columbia, Antwan Williams, Jr. of Virginia, Dedric Smith, Jr. of Columbia, Raheem Majeed of Columbia, Johan Boyd of Columbia, Kormorah Majeed of Columbia, Johanna Boyd of Columbia, Xavier Kennedy Jr. of Columbia, Isabella Wall of Columbia, Khloe Wall of Columbia, and Edward Brown Jr. of Columbia; god granddaughter, Morgan Robertson of Florida; sister, Jennifer (Nate) Jeffcoat of Columbia; sisters-in-law, Ann Douglas and Jennifer Blake both of Columbia; a host of nieces, nephews, great-nieces, and great-nephews; special lifelong girlfriends, Rochelle Brown, Shirley Goodwin, Diane Labrew, and Loretta Lewis, many other loving relatives, and friends that will miss her dearly
