Turn Again To Life

By: Mary Lee Hall

If I should die and leave you here a while,
 be not like others sore undone,
 who keep long vigil by the silent dust.
For my sake turn again to life and smile,
 nerving thy heart and trembling hand
to do something to comfort other hearts than mine.
Complete these dear unfinished tasks of mine and I perchance may therein comfort you.

Obituary

of

Ms. Patricia Ann Pearson Joye

Ms. Patricia Joye was born on May 14, 1958, and from the beginning, she embraced life with a deep-seated faith and a passion for family. Throughout her life's journey, she cherished her roles as a daughter, a mother, a grandmother, and a stepmother. Despite the challenges she faced, Patricia's unwavering belief in God guided her every step.

Patricia was blessed with one daughter, Shyllice Pearson (deceased), and found immense joy in her grandchildren, Travis and Alisha Trice. She also shared her life with her stepchildren, Jamelle and Ashley Palmer, whom she loved dearly.

A woman of many talents and interests, Patricia found great pleasure in simple moments spent with family. She was known for her quiet demeanor, yet her presence could light up any room with her humor and free spirit. Patricia had a passion for renovating furniture and engaging in various DIY projects, a testament to her creative soul and hands-on approach to life.

In pursuit of her dreams, Patricia recently relocated to Florida to enjoy her well-deserved retirement and explore new horizons. Though her time there was short, she cherished every moment surrounded by the warmth of her family.

Her departure leaves a void in the hearts of all who knew her, but her memory will forever be a source of comfort and inspiration. Patricia's legacy of faith, love, and laughter will continue to resonate through the lives she touched.

May Patricia Joye rest in eternal peace, surrounded by the love of God she held so dear, and may her spirit continue to guide and inspire us all.
