

Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?*

*Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.*

*For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's Plan,
A step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss Me - But Let Me Go.*

of Mrs. Georgiana Moore Brown

Mrs. Georgiana Moore Brown was born on September 20, 1942, in Florence, South Carolina, to the late Matthew Moore and Ella Louise Moore. She departed this life on Friday, October 18, 2024.

Georgiana was raised in Florence, South Carolina and attended Wilson High School, before graduating from Trenton High School, in Trenton, New Jersey. She also graduated from Palmer College, in Columbia, South Carolina.

Georgiana dedicated over 30 years to her career at South Carolina National/Wachovia Bank, where she made lasting friendships and contributions before her retirement at Wells Fargo. In 1969, she married the love of her life, James C. Brown, in Columbia, South Carolina. Together, they welcomed two children, embodying the essence of a devoted wife and loving mother.

Georgiana was a member of Central Baptist Church of Columbia, South Carolina. As a child, she was baptized and attended Mt. Pisgah Baptist Church, in Florence, South Carolina. Her passion for social and community service led her to become a founding member of Club 24, a member of the Quettes, the Red Hat Society, and the Wilson High School Class of 1960 Alumni Association.

Her kind and gentle spirit touched the lives of many. Known for her encouraging nature, she was often described as "the wind beneath my wings," inspiring those around her to reach their fullest potential. Georgiana's laughter and infectious smile brought joy to all who knew her.

Georgiana is survived by her loving husband of 55 years, James C. Brown, Sr; daughter, Dr. Angelique Sonja Brown Mitchell; son, Dr. James "Chris" Brown, Jr.; grandsons, Vaughn "VJ" Mitchell, Jr. and Caleb Mitchell; sisters, Irene Williams and Vivian (Wilbur) Jackson; in-laws, Cleveland (Sadie) Brown and Minnie Wigfall; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her brothers, Matthew Moore, Jr., Zack Moore, Robert Moore, and Luther Bethea.

Her legacy of love, kindness, and laughter will forever be cherished by all who had the privilege to know her.
