

Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?*

*Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.*

*For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's Plan,
A step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss Me - But Let Me Go.*

Obituary of

Mrs. Carrie Jones Wilson

Mrs. Carrie Jones Wilson was born on August 21, 193, in Eastover, South Carolina. She was the youngest child of the late Joel and Marie Jones. Carrie departed this life on Monday, October 14, 2024.

Mrs. Wilson was educated in the public schools of Richland County, South Carolina and was a 1950 graduate of Booker T. Washington High School. She retired from Providence Hospital in 1994, after 40 plus years of service.

Mrs. Wilson was baptized at Antioch Baptist Church, in Columbia, South Carolina. She later moved her membership to First Nazareth Baptist Church, in Columbia, South Carolina.

In addition to her parents, Mrs. Wilson was preceded in death by her husband, William Wilson; brothers, Johnny Moyer, Edward Moyer, John Jones, Wesley Jones, and Charlie Jones; sisters, Ethel Gregory and Carolyn Smith; son, Angelo Wilson; and granddaughter, Aisha Abdulkhaliq.

Mrs. Carrie Jones Wilson leaves to cherish her memory: three sons, Amin (Naima) Abdulkhaliq, Sherman Wilson, and Stacey Wilson, all of Columbia, South Carolina; six grandchildren; sixteen great-grandchildren; five great-great-grandchildren; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other loving relatives, and caring friends, all of whom will miss her dearly.
