

My Last Message

Sometimes we forget that life can change instantly
When video calls and hugs turn into cries and memories,
We all knew this day would come
Don't cry, I'm happy, then pains all gone And I left you all instructions
Before my final trip home
Love one another the world is already filled with hate
Learn, love, and live through God
And remember to pray everyday
Everything else is already installed
Love you now go make me proud
So, when u look up smiling from success
I'm right there smiling back looking down
