New Life

When roses bud, bloom and rebloom
When azaleas show their class selves year after year
When apples ripen and the weight of life falls to the ground.
No one questions their color, smell, sight, or sound.
Life has several renewals, which one will you take?
Life have tears, kindness, laughter, joy, meanness and pain,
But life has a beginning and an end.
Yes, we question why, what for and when.

Peace and love
