My Dearest Brother,

Words can't express what you mean to me. Gratitude is something that I can give you, in exchange for everything you've given me. I truly appreciate knowing you, and the time that I got to spend with you wholeheartedly. I will forever cherish each moment and each word that we shared. To know you is to love you. The fact that we were able to read each other's mind, and act accordingly towards one another. A form of soul ties. Even when we thought that our peace of mind was out of reach, we always knew how to redirect our emotions. Unexpectancy cause the scales to be unbalanced, but you know that I will always and forever step up to bear the weight of it all that has to be.....all that's required of me. From beginning until the end, through thick and thin, one thing for certain.....is that you can always count on me. I'll love you forever, even after death. I was looking forward to growing old together, you man. In my mind, we were supposed to live forever. You may no longer be here physically, but I will definitely keep you alive. You made everything worthwhile, you were a very free spirited man. When it come to showing up for your children, I'll be there with a love so strong. Just get your rest, you know Lil Sis got this. I'll be your strength, we will both keep holding on. Good memories with tears of joy, knowing that I love you to eternity Fred Dog.
