

Heaven's Trophy

Long after the lights are gone
And the cinema cameras fade
The sun has set
The moon has arised
And the clouds retreat for the day
As the stars unwind
They align the sky
To guide you on your way
You see your path was already chosen
It was a decision you had made
You see your tools were grace and mercy
Your life was the journey made
Love was the footprints to follow
As you ran your miraculous race
You've won the ultimate trophy
Heaven is what it's called
Your journey was one of perfection
Because God carried you through it all
Will I miss you...Oh yes, I will
You were love and love alone
You made this world seem so unheavy
With the ingredients that you showed
You mixed God, faith, and forgiveness
Covered in mounds of love
I see now that that was the key
To win this race we all must run
So enjoy Heaven's trophy
As you walk the streets of gold
We'll carry and honor your legacy
Because we know you're now at home

Memories

A Service of Remembrance

Mrs. Geraldine Roseborough Taylor was born on June 23, 1949, in Pontiac, South Carolina. She was the youngest child of the late Moses Roseborough and Mary Jane Samuel Roseborough. She departed this earthly life on Monday, May 18, 2026, surrounded by family.

Mrs. Taylor was educated in the public schools of Richland County. She worked as a caretaker for over 30 years, affectionally loving, raising, and taking care of numerous children and loving them as her own. She also helped raise and take care of many of her nieces and nephews. Mrs. Taylor later retired, enjoying life with her family, friends, and loved ones.

She was an active member of The Site Church, formally known as Holy Site Deliverance Temple for more than 30 years, where she was one of the longest serving members. Mrs. Taylor was a praying woman with a big heart. She served as an usher, secretary, and became one of the mothers of the church.

Mrs. Taylor loved everyone, and no one was considered a stranger. She was very big on respect. Mrs. Taylor would help anyone, give to anyone, feed anyone, and never looked for anything back in return. Her heart was one of pure joy and love. Her love for God was unmatched. Her faith was unwavering, and forgiveness was one of the keystones of her life. She lived and led by example with the most humble, meek, and unselfish spirit. She was a true woman of God and a force to be reckoned with. Mrs. Taylor also enjoyed spending holidays with her family, especially Thanksgiving with her grandchildren, as they always stayed the night before to be with her as her helpers and taste testers. This was a tradition that was held sacred every year since the grandchildren were young. Mrs. Taylor enjoyed life, laughter, smiles, hugs, and encouraging others.

Geraldine was a phenomenal, God-fearing woman, who did not mind sharing the word of God, listening, and was truly loved by all.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Frank Taylor, Jr., and many of her siblings.

Mrs. Geraldine Roseborough Taylor leaves to cherish her memory: one son, Leon (Heather) Bostick of Lexington, SC; two daughters, Eartha (Patrick) Taylor and Francis (Corey) Taylor both of Columbia, SC; one sister, Wilbertlene Keitt of Columbia, SC; one brother, Newry (Helen) Roseborough of Camden, SC; three sisters-in-law, Bessie (Cecil) Geiger, Lessie Sligh, and Mary Taylor; two brothers-in-law, Richmond Taylor and Albert (Diane) Taylor; eight grandchildren, Emmanuel Harley, Isaiah Pierce, Mikayla Bostick, Sarah Dickerson, Amya Bostick, Emani Harley, Christian Lorick, and Sydney Bostick; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other loving relatives, and friends, who will deeply miss her.
