Don't Cry For Me

*Don't cry for me, I am alright
I'm just not here.
I am out of sight,
my face is free from worry and pain.
Don't cry for me, my living was not in vain
Listen dear children, I love you all,
Don't cry for me, I answered my call.
My Lord called me home to stay,
Don't cry for me, I am just away.
I lived my life so you can see,
God made no mistake by taking me.
Continue to live right and maybe one day,
I will see you again, in that land far away.*

Obituary

Mr. Willie Lee Porterfield or “Greasy,” as he was commonly called, was born February 15, 1933, in Swansea, South Carolina. He was the youngest child born to the late Lee Arthur and Emilee Clara Porterfield. He departed this earthly life on Saturday, July 11, 2026.

He was educated in the public schools of Calhoun County. He began working at Palmetto Wood Preserving Plant, becoming a lead supervisor, until his retirement.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his brother, son, sister and wife.

Mr. Willie Lee Porterfield leaves to cherish his precious memory: his children, Frankie Mae (Alexander) Watson, of Columbia, South Carolina, Shirley (Jimmy) Jeffcoat, of Gaston, South Carolina, and Keith Porterfield, of West Columbia, South Carolina; 73 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends, all of whom will remember him for his loving nature, his incredible strength, infectious humor and countless ways he enriched our lives.
