

“A Life Well Lived, A Love Forever Remembered”

Mr. Henry Johnson, Jr. was born on April 3, 1961, in Columbia, South Carolina, to the late Henry Johnson, Sr. and Sennie Benjamin Johnson. Henry was raised in a loving home where faith, hard work, laughter, and compassion were deeply valued. His parents welcomed family and friends with open doors and open hearts, and the principles they instilled in Henry remained with him throughout his life.

A devoted father and grandfather, Henry cherished his two daughters, Sharese Johnson and Shannon Johnson, and his granddaughter, Zuri Jones. His family was among his greatest joys, and he took great pride in providing for them and watching them grow.

Henry completed his high school education and later attended Midlands Technical College, where he earned a certificate in landscaping. His love of the outdoors and talent for working with his hands naturally led him toward entrepreneurship. He began his career as a truck driver with Ben Arnold and later worked for Southeastern Freight Lines. Driven by a desire to build something of his own, Henry eventually left the trucking industry and founded Quality Lawn and Yard Service. Through determination, skill, and a strong work ethic, he developed the company into a successful business. Henry took pride in the quality of his work and in the relationships he formed with those he served. Quality Lawn and Yard Service reflected his independence, dedication, and commitment to providing for his family. He devoted the remainder of his working life to the business he created and built.

Outside of work, Henry enjoyed muscle cars, watching movies, and spending time in the yard. He was also known for his light two-step whenever music played, his infectious laughter, and his memorable saying, “I’m a bad boy in these streets.” These familiar expressions of his personality brought joy and laughter to those around him.

Although Henry’s earthly journey has ended, the love he shared, the laughter he brought, and the memories he created will remain in the hearts of all who knew and loved him. His life was a blessing to his family and to everyone who had the privilege of knowing him.

Henry was preceded in death by his father, Henry Johnson, Sr.; his mother, Sennie Benjamin Johnson; and his sister, Blanche Johnson-Henry.

He leaves to cherish his memory his daughters, Sharese Johnson and Shannon Johnson; his granddaughter, Zuri Jones; his sister, Diane Peters; and a host of nieces, nephews, great-nieces, great nephews, cousins, extended family members, and dear friends.

The values he embraced, the business he built, and the love he gave his family will continue as a lasting part of his legacy for generations to come.

Tribute

*A daddy's love is something special,
A bond that time can't take away.
It's carried deep within our hearts
And grows more precious every day.*

*You were a part of who we are,
A piece of us that will remain.
And even though we cannot see you,
Our love for you will never change.*

*We'll miss your voice, we'll miss your presence,
And all the moments we once knew.
If love alone could keep you here,
We'd never have to say goodbye to you.
Those little things mean so much more today—
Your laugh, your smile, your sayings, your way.
Though we must say goodbye and let your hand go,
The love and memories you gave us will forever grow.*

*So rest now, Daddy, your journey is done,
But in our hearts, your life carries on.
For death may separate us for a while,
But it can never take your love or your smile.
Your work is finished.
Your love remains.
And you will forever be ours.*
