Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's Plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss Me - But Let Me Go.*

Obituary

Ms. Eulia Mae Tucker was born on March 16, 1943, in Richland County, South Carolina. She was the beloved daughter of the late Benjamin Tucker and Hattie Robinson Tucker Washington. She moved to New York in 1963, returning to South Carolina in 2008. She departed this earthly life on Tuesday, October 6, 2026.

Eulia was educated in the public schools of Richland County, South Carolina, and graduated from Webber High School, Class of 1961. Upon graduation, she then furthered her education at Farmingdale College of New York, graduating with a degree in the medical field.

Ms. Tucker was a member of St. Phillip AME Church, in Eastover, South Carolina and was a member of the Ora Bell Nelson W.M.S. She was married in 1964 to John E. Glover, and they divorced in 1980.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her brothers and sisters, James W. Tucker, Benjamin Tucker, Lorenzo E. Tucker, Doretha Tucker Wilson, Josephine Brevard, Rebecca M. Wilson and Wilbur Tucker; sister-in-law, Francine Tucker; and one daughter, Gwendolyn D. Glover.

Ms. Eulia Mae Tucker leaves to mourn her passing: her daughters, JoAnn Glover and Jessica L. Glover; three brothers, Julius (Elizabeth) Tucker, Thomas Lee (Blondell) Tucker, Franklin (Mary) Tucker; four grandchildren, Brandi V. Evans, Natasha M. Glover, Maureen D. Morgan, and Samara D. Taylor; eight great-grandchildren, Makayla, Jahzir, Josiah, Darius, Ashya, Maleah, Anthony, Jayceon, Nehemiah, and Maleah; and a host of nieces, nephews, other loving relatives, and dear friends, all of whom will miss her dearly.
